Course Rationale

This course analyzes the strategic behavior of firms, consumers, but also political parties and individuals in their everyday interaction. The focus of the course will mainly be applied, although some basic general principles will be discussed in order to address these strategic situations in a more rigorous manner. Different examples, ranging from business and industrial organization to politics, international trade and biology, will be used, showing the importance and usefulness of the concepts discussed in class.

Course Objectives and Learning Outcomes

The main goal of the course is to make you apply the tools of game theory in order to examine interactive decision problems, i.e., situations whereby every agent's actions have payoff consequences on other agents. In particular, by the end of this course you will be able to:

- Construct the structure of interactive decision problems,
- Analyze which are the available strategies for each player, and
- What is the amount of information known by a player before she makes her move.
- Predict and describe how a certain game is going to be played by the players involved (i.e., their equilibrium behavior), and how firms or institutions behave when facing an strategic interaction.
- Model economics and business topics covered in other courses using the formal tools that game theory provides.

As a by-product, you will learn to view social interactions as strategic games, to use game theoretic concepts to predict behavior in these interactions and to conceive of ways in which altering the game affects social outcomes.

WSU Learning Goals:

This course will contribute to the following WSU learning goals: critical and creative thinking, and quantitative reasoning.

Prerequisites:

Intermediate Microeconomics (EconS 301) is required. Some high-school algebra is also expected.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Quizzes

Short quizzes will be given at the beginning of some classes (you can expect about 4 quizzes in total), except for the first few weeks. I will be announcing quizzes a few days in advance.

Homework:

Homework assignments will be posted on the course website. Make sure you give yourself enough time to complete the problem sets. You are encouraged to work in groups, although an individual homework assignment has to be assigned per student. Academic Honesty:

WAC 504-25-015. Academic dishonesty, such as cheating, plagiarism, fabrication, and fraud, is prohibited. See <http://www.conduct.wsu.edu/default.asp?PageID=343> for more information and specific definitions of academic dishonesty.

As an institution of higher education, Washington State University is committed to principles of truth and academic honesty. All members of the University community share the responsibility for maintaining and supporting these principles. When a student enrolls in Washington State University, the student assumes an obligation to pursue academic endeavors in a manner consistent with the standards of academic integrity adopted by the University. To maintain the academic integrity of the community, the University cannot tolerate acts of academic dishonesty including any forms of cheating, plagiarism, or fabrication. Washington State University reserves the right and the power to discipline or to exclude students who engage in academic dishonesty. To that end, the University has established the following rules defining prohibited academic dishonesty and the process followed when such behavior is alleged. These rules incorporate Washington State University's Academic Integrity Policy, the University-wide document establishing policies and procedures to foster academic integrity. This policy is applicable to undergraduate and graduate students alike, as it pertains to dishonesty in course work and related academic pursuits. In cases of dishonesty in research and original scholarship, the University's Policy and Procedural Guidelines for Misconduct in Research and Scholarship may take precedence over the policies and procedures contained herein.

Academic dishonesty includes cheating, plagiarism, and fabrication in the process of completing academic work. These standards should be interpreted by students as general notice of prohibited conduct. They should be read broadly, and are not designed to define misconduct in exhaustive forms.
